Rich Widow.

Mrs. Mabel M. Treadwell, of South Bend, Ind., said to possess more than $1,000,000, was married Jan. 4, to her former chauffeur and private secretary, Harry A. Fred Wood, who is many years younger. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the woman's two sons, the elder of whom, it is said, is nearly the age of his new step father.

New Adjutant General.

Col. W. B. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times, has been appointed Adjutant General of Kentucky, to succeed Gen. P. P. Johnston. Col. Haldeman has accepted to serve for six months, after which time he will resign his business engagements preventing him from taking the place permanently.

Col. Haldeman was formerly Col. one of the First Regiment.

All Goods Bearing The Diamond Edge Brand are Guaranteed

DIAMOND EDGE AXES

The class and style of DIAMOND EDGE Axes show in their finish and appearance. The edge is sharp, very sharp, and is tempered so truly that not one out of a thousand ever breaks or makes trouble.

The DIAMOND EDGE Axe has not only the "metal" quality, but the well thought out shape that "sinks" easily and "chips" thoroughly.

They cost no more than others, but are worth much more if the above qualities are considered.

DIAMOND EDGE

Mounted Grindstone

A grindstone is valuable according to its usability. A one man grindstone is almost necessary. This grindstone is mounted accurately with ball axle bearings and ball crank bearings. The double treadle enables you to run this stone easily and do any kind of grinding. There are no pins nor loose parts and all castings are malleable iron. Try this the first time you come in the store.

Good tools remove any possible suspicion that you do not know your job.

The Diamond Edge Carpenter's Special is a tool that should be in every carpenter's kit. It is a thick, where it should be thin, where it should be strong, where it should be weak. It knows that the less the muscle required, the less the muscle required. It knows the narrow, thin back saw does not require a heavy set.

The Diamond Edge Carpenter's Special, sold by us, clearly demonstrates all these qualities.

FIGHTING BOB EVANS DEAD

Rear Admiral Expires Wednesday After Illness Of Two Hours.

WIDELY KNOWN NAVAL HERO

Best Known Officer Of The Navy Comes To Sudden End.

Washington, Jan. 5. — Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, "Fighting Bob," to an admiring nation, died suddenly Wednesday at his home, in this city. Acute indigestion ended the career of one of the most popular officers in the navy. He was ill less than two hours.

Admiral Evans, was born sixty-five years ago, in Floyd county, Va. He served with distinction in the civil war when a mere boy.

H. H. ABERNATHY

Elected Inspector In Hot Contest this Week.

R. E. Cooper, President.
F. W. Dabney, Vice President.
B. G. Nelson, Secretary.
H. H. Abernathy, Inspector.
W. M. Hancock and James West, Arbitration Committee.
J. P. Thompson, M. H. Tandy, T. B. Fairleigh and E. M. Flack, Reclamation Committee.

The Tobacco Board of Trade held its annual meeting Wednesday and elected the list of officers given above, most of whom were re-elected.

There was a spirited race for Inspector between Messrs. S. G. Buckner, N. A. Barrett and H. H. Abernathy, the latter winning after several ballots. The place pays about $2,000 a year, the cost of inspection being 25 cents a hog's head. Mr. Abernathy, who had accepted a position with the Forbes Manufacturing Co., will resign that place to accept the one to which he was elected.

BEWLY WILLING

To Disgorge Money Paid to Him By His Victims.

J. W. Bowly, the young man who is held here in jail on numerous charges of defrauding persons here and elsewhere on a calendar scheme is still protesting his innocence. He says he took orders for a man named Thomas Shane, who cannot now be found and that he was acting in good faith. His wife has been here some time and is working to get her husband out of his trouble. He offers to reimburse all of the people who lost money by his operations, paying them out of his own resources. Mrs. Bewly expresses confidence in her husband's innocence of crime.

Hair Turned White.

The heavy hair of J. J. McNamara now a convict in the California penitentiary, it is reported, has turned now white since his incarceration a month ago.

TROOPS ARE BACK HOME

Detachment of Company Ordered Home Thursday From Fulton.

ON DUTY OVER TWO MONTHS

Strike Troubles Have Abated And Soldiers No Longer Needed.

Capt. E. W. Clark and the detachment of 20 soldiers of Co. D, Third Regiment, were ordered home Thursday and reached home that night. The soldiers were sent to Fulton, Ky., Oct. 28, on account of troubles growing out of a strike on the I. C. Railroad, which resulted in the guards being fired upon by unknown parties. Quiet reigned while the soldiers were there and the local authorities agreed that they were no longer needed.

The troops arrived in camp and all came back well pleased with their experience in preserving order.

NEW STORE

To Give Bargains In Dry Goods In Cook Building.

O. G. Sprague & Co., of Springfield, Tenn., have rented the east room in the new Cook building, corner Clay and Ninth street, and will begin on Jan. 12 the sale of a large stock of dry goods at bargain prices. Particulars of the sale will be found in to-day's Kentuckian and should be carefully read. Mr. Sprague, the head of the firm, is a successful business man of Springfield and his coming will be an important addition to the commercial life of busy Hopkinsville.

Removal.

Being unable to secure the shoeing shop on North Main St., where we have been for the past two years, on Dec. 26th, 1911, we moved in partnership with Mack Harper at his present location with Yost Co. at 212 South Virginia St., looking all our patrons for their patronage and soliciting a continuance of their patronage.

Respectfully,

NEW OWNERS FOR LIGHT CO.

Eastern Syndicate Has Purchased The Light Plant Here.

NO PARTICULARS GIVEN, OUT

Trade Was Made By Chicago Attorneys--Shepard To Leave.

An option held on the plant of the City Light Co., of this city, by a syndicate whose identity has been kept in the background, was closed this week, after protracted negotiations. The same syndicate has options on the lighting plants at Bowling Green, Owensboro, Frankfort and possibly other Kentucky towns.

The trade was made by attorneys in Chicago and even the light company does not know who the new owners are. It is believed that Philadelphia capitalists are behind the deal. No announcements have been made, except that the present service will be uninterrupted.

Mr. L. M. Shepard, who has been in personal charge of the local plant for sometime, will leave Hopkinsville as soon as the transfer is made.

The Company's contract for street lighting expired nearly two months ago and has not been renewed.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—

"Kentuckian"

A virile, new newspaper with the latest news from the heart of the South. It is a paper your family should not be without.

Second—

Technical World Magazine

is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to kill away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the facts of engineering and exploration, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says: "I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you herewith check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

Third—

A Fine Atlas

This one is just off the presses. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures, 128 pages of 3 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/2. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title. Printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $3.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE
Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

THE AMERICAN REVIEW OF REVIEWS

is a necessity to the busy man or woman who values being up to date. In a hundred ways its editorials, its character sketches and its timely articles will help you make your choice. It gives you the best, clearest and most accurate, non-partisan and unprejudiced news that money can buy. It is the great monthly newspaper on which intelligent people everywhere rely for their news, and you get this news almost as promptly as it is given in the great daily newspapers of the country.

Senator La Follette says: "The most useful, accurate, and impartial review of the age. I have found the magazine to be a valuable source of information."

THE MAN A DOG LIKES
I. B. Hammond, Democratic representative from Ohio, tells the story: "A man told me yesterday employed a steady German shepherd. One day Jake came to him and asked to be released from work the next day. 'Certainly, Jake,' I said, and then I asked him, 'What are you going to do?' 'Well,' said Jake, slowly, 'I think I must go by my wife's funeral. She died yesterday.' After the lapse of a few weeks Jake again approached the boss for a day off. 'All right, Jake, but what are you going to do this time?' 'Aber,' said Jake, 'I go to make me, mit mein fraulein, a wedding.' 'What? So soon? Why it's only been three weeks since you buried your wife.' 'Ach!' replied Jake, 'I don't hold spite long.'—Human Life.

FUN.

"Now," said the chairman of the reception committee, "if it will suit your convenience we will conduct you through some of our greatest industrial establishments. I feel that it is safe to assure you that you will find them interesting, if not instructive."

"Thank you," replied the distinguished visitor, "but I would really prefer to put in the afternoon witnessing some kind of sport, if you have anything in that line that you consider worth while."

"Very well. We will go out to the race track. There are to be automobile, motorcycle and aeroplane races, and there is almost sure to be a serious accident."

Cotton Supplants Poppies.
In some parts of China cotton is supplanting poppies as a crop, because of the rigid laws against the use of opium.

WHY A MAN LIKES A DOG
Of course there are other reasons, but these are the ideas of the Suffragette Lady.

"Why does a man like a dog?" retorted the suffragette lady, fiercely, and repeated, "Why does a man like a dog? Well, there are numerous reasons, though a dog is not a reasoning being. A dog will lick the hand that beats it; a dog will eat a crust and a bone and bless the giver; a dog thinks whatever a man does is right and proper; a dog has no rights that a man is bound to respect; a dog asks no embarrassing questions; a dog is always grateful, no matter for what; a dog does not ask the man to stay at home nights; a dog is satisfied to love the man whether the man loves the dog or not; a dog submits to any and all impositions without protest; a dog does not consider itself a man's equal; a dog lets a man have his own way; a dog doesn't want to vote; a dog is just as glad to see a man when he gets in at three o'clock in the morning, almost helpless, as if he hadn't gone out at all; a dog has no mother in sight, and a dog can't talk back—can't talk back, mind you, no; won't talk back. That is why a man likes a dog."

Finally Took Receipt.

The baron had handed over his wife's jewelry box to be put in the safe.

"I'll give you a receipt, baron," said the hotel clerk.

"Er—I fancy it isn't necessary," replied the baron with some hauteur as he turned away.

He did not get far at once. He seemed to be thinking. He shifted his weight first to one foot and then to the other, spending several minutes in this profitable exercise. Then he decided to go upstairs. At the end of an hour he returned.

"I have been thinking it over carefully," he said to the clerk, "and I have come to the conclusion that perhaps it might be better for me to have a receipt." He got it.

BIG FIRE

In Louisville D-destroy Property Worth $100,000.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 8.—Four hundred thousand dollars is the estimated loss caused by fire that destroyed three ladies' apparel establishments, damaged the Baldwin Piano Company's store, slightly damaged the Courier-Journal building and caused a panic in two theatres. At 11:15 o'clock last night the blaze was under control. The fire started in the store of H. J. Gutman & Co. from undetermined cause, and soon destroyed the stock there and that of Abe E. Levi and Co. in the same building. It then swept to the four-story establishment of the Swartz Company and then to the Baldwin store. Panics in the two near-by theatres were prevented by timely announcements.

HE NEVER EVEN TOOK AIM

But this Type at Hunting brought Down Two Birds, and Shot No More.

"Only once in my life did I ever do any shooting," said a returning guest, before he started on his way out of one of the big New York houses.

"As the only stranger in the party, they let me go ahead following the dogs closely. I didn't even know what a prairie chicken looked like; whether they would run along the ground or fly. Suddenly I heard a tremendous whirr, the sound, as I came to know, of the birds taking wing. So excited was I that, without raising the gun to my shoulder I pulled the trigger. 'Bang!' went the gun, and two of the birds fluttered slowly to the ground.

MADE EQUALS BY LEARNING

With the Same Education, Men Will Lose Their Superiority Over Women.

Rev. Anna Howard Shaw said recently in Philadelphia of an opponent of co-education: "Perhaps he objects because he is aware that equal education does away with man's superiority. The average man, of course, won't be superior to the average woman when they are both equally well educated. His assertions won't be accepted then unquestioningly.

Horse Pedometers.

The whorls of hair on the coats of horses and other animals are natural pedometers, inasmuch as they register the locomotive activities of the animals on whose bodies they are found.

The best examples and the greatest number of these hairy whorls and crests are found on the domestic horse. A notable instance is the graceful feathering that extends along the hollow of the flank, dividing the trunk of the animal from the hind-quarters. There are also crests and whorls on the horse's chest and other parts of its body.

A study of the action of the underlying muscles explains the origin of these peculiarities in the lay of the hair and furnishes the justification for calling them pedometers, although the analogy is, of course, merely superficial.

Mixed Patriotism.

Up in the Nineteenth assembly district they are telling this story of a fallen political idol. In the rounds of his social activities he attended an afternoon entertainment given by the Outdoor Playground association. Among the vocal selections rendered by the children was "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." At the conclusion of that hymn the political idol was called upon for a few remarks. He addressed the audience with emotion.

"Children," he said, "it does my heart good to hear you. Scarcely over have I heard 'The Star-Spangled Banner' so beautifully sung."—New York Times.

Fine Horses of Mixed Blood.

Since the beginning of the seventeenth century Jerez de la Forontera has been the most noted horse-breeding center of Andalusia, for many hundreds of years famous for its fine horses. Jerez de la Forontera was one of the first and last Moorish strongholds in Spain, and the best horses there were all bred from famous Arab stallions, so that what is known as an Andalusian, or Spanish, horse has always a good deal of Arab blood; it has, however, been crossed with so many other breeds, especially Flemish, that today the Spanish horse is not registered in the books of record of pure-blood animals.

Expensive Bravery.

The manager of a shooting gallery patronized by women was glad to get another pupil, but he could not exactly sympathize with her husband's motive for urging her to acquire crack marksmanship.

"One night when she was staying alone up in the country a burglar got into the house," the husband said, "and she had to fire six shots at him before she touched him, and then she only grazed the tail of his coat. It's wicked extravagance to waste cartridges like that, and she's got to shoot."

WEDDING GLOVE FOR BRIDE

Three Years It Was Worn by the Bride of the Year

A bride who was divorced the day after the wedding thought when the ring was about to be placed on her finger.

The story of the origin of the wedding glove has come to light. Some time ago a girl who had lost her right arm in the hunting field asked for a single wedding glove.

She remarked on the awkwardness of having to remove her glove with the help of her teeth, and it was then seen that matters would be greatly facilitated for the bride if she only had to uncover the ring finger.

The experiment was so successful that it aroused the interest of other prospective brides, who saw in it a boon which would save them from the usual difficulties of removing a whole glove in the moment when the ring is about to be put on.—Exchange.

HIS SPEECH WAS GREAT HIT

Pumperton Thought It Was His Wit, But His Wife Discovered the Reason.

It was late before Pumperton got home, but his wife was still sitting up for him. "Well, John," she greeted him, "how was the dinner? And how was your speech received?"

"Oh, yes—more. None of the preceding speeches had been particularly clever, and they had hardly raised a smile. But I had no more than stood up and begun when they began to laugh. I went on, my dear, and I assure you, they simply shook. I never have seen any company so thoroughly entertained. I even expanded a little—gave them a couple of new stories that came into my mind. And when I sat down they cheered and clapped and laughed for minutes. I shall never forget how they laughed."

"Yes, I can well imagine so," his wife said sarcastically. "But the next time you are to make an after-dinner speech wouldn't it be well to put your vest on before leaving home?"

Her Idea of It.

Algie Graham Livingston is going to write a spelling book, some day, if they let her, according to a writer in the Cleveland Leader.

"How do you spell 'Yalning'?" she asked the other afternoon, as the big drops came down and spoiled her outdoor play. In parenthesis he said that she isn't big enough to pronounce the letter "r." Hence "Yalning."

Her mother gave the desired information, but Algie, whose proper name is Elsie, shook her head. Her big brother endeavored to assist her, but Algie roughly declined advice.

"Well," said her brother Bob, "how do you spell it?"

"H, e, double l," came the answer, like a flash.

And they wonder where she got it.

Fathers of Great Men.

The father of Samuel Pepys was a tailor. The father of James Mill was a cobbler. The father of Jules Verne was a day laborer. Oliver Cromwell's father was a brewer. Epictetus was the son of a day laborer. Socrates was the son of a day laborer. Glotto, the artist, was a peasant's son. The father of Plus V. was a shepherd. The father of Schumann was a bookseller. The father of Plus IV. was a peasant. The father of Cowley was a grocer. The father of Charles Lamb was a servant. Milton was the son of a copyist. Pope's father was a merchant. Neander's father was a carter. Homer was a farmer's son.

First to Practice Palmistry.

Gypsies introduced the practice of palmistry into England. This appears from a statute of 1531 called an "Acte concerning Egyptians," which recites that "before this tyme dyverse and many outlandyshe People, callinge themselves Egyptians, using no crafts nor faiete of marchaundys, have comen into this Realme and gone from Shire to Shire and Place to Place, and used grepte subtilty and crafty meanes to deceyve the people that they by palmestrye could tell menne and womens fortunes, and have by crafts and subtiltye deceyved the people of their money."

Decided Change.

Mrs. Brown—Do you think marriage changes a man? Mrs. Jones—Vastly. Look at my husband. He used to offer me a penny for my thoughts; now he offers me $70 to shut up.

Miss Weston, Capitalist

By Claudine Sisson

There is an old saying to the effect that when a man goes fishing he doesn't know what may happen. Perhaps Mr. Guy Hilton had never heard anything about it, but he went fishing and many things happened that he did not look for.

Mr. Hilton went with a little party of three, and the quartette camped on Loon lake and fished. It was called Loon lake, because no one unless he was looney ever went there thinking to catch fish. After a couple of weeks Mr. Hilton was taken with chills and had to go to a farm house and call a doctor, and the other three broke camp and went home.

In two weeks the patient was cured and ready to follow. Then came another unexpected thing. When the doctor and the farmer had been paid Mr. Hilton found himself stone broke. When a man is stone broke he hasn't got a nickel in his pockets. It would be all right, however, when the penniless man got down to the village of Rockford. Some merchant there would cash his check on a city bank. He would want only four dollars for railroad fare.

Mr. Guy Hilton didn't look like a confidence man. He wasn't sly, sleek and slick. Like any other man with a fair bank account and a reasonable trust in human nature, he wrote out a check for four dollars and asked the leading merchant in the town to cash it.

"That game is too old even for this village," was the reply.

"Game? Game? I have money in this bank," said the astonished young man.

"But you ought to have it in your pocket instead."

"You can telephone the bank and make sure it's all straight."

"But of what interest to me? I am not here to help folks out of troubles they get into."

How foolish the stone broke man had been to apply to a stranger, when he could telephone to a friend in the city and have a hundred dollars sent up. He went to the postoffice, which was the only pay station in the village, and was told to drop 20 cents in the slot.

"Mighty suspicious circumstance"

"But—but I don't happen to have it," he replied. "That's what I want to telephone about—money!"

"I don't see how you can do it without the 20 cents," replied the postmaster.

"But I can have a hat full of money up here by to-morrow."

"Better have a dollar or two now. You won't find this town easy to work, and you may get into trouble trying."

Mr. Hilton went down to the depot to try the railroad telegraph. A ten-word message would be 25 cents. No; no messages sent collect from strangers. They had got through that sort of thing long ago. When the stone broke man went to the inn. He had a watch that had cost him $150. He laid it down in front of the landlord and said:

"I want to stay for a day or two until I get some money up from the city by express, and this will be your security. Please provide me with a postage stamp, that I may write a letter."

The landlord hefted the watch as he would a stone, drew the chain through his fingers, and then winked a long, lingering wink and replied:

"Stranger, it was 40 years ago that I was a spring chicken and gobbled up gravel for corn."

"What do you mean?"

"Bill Stacey, the constable, will be around here pretty soon and I'll tell him what I mean! Bill can get on to a sharper quicker'n any other man in the state."

Mr. Hilton walked back to the depot with a resolve in his heart. There would be a train in about an hour, and he would board it, and if the conductor tried to throw him off instead of taking his watch in lieu of a ticket, he would fight for his life.

In the sitting room was a young lady and on the platform was her trunk. It didn't take a minute to figure out that she had been visiting some family in the vicinity, and was going back to her home in the city.

The young lady was not so bashful that she kept her eye on the floor, or turned her back to the door, or hid out of the window. On the contrary, she had more than one peep at the man and and was also going home. She didn't amount for his dejected look and nervous bearing, but hoped he had received no bad news to take him home.

Mr. Hilton walked up and down the platform. Then he entered the sitting room and read the time tables and other interesting literature. Then he walked a block up the street and walked back again. Then he walked straight up to the young lady and said:

"I find myself—"

"Yes?"

"I find myself in an embarrassing position."

"You wish to take the train down, and you have neither ticket nor money?"

"That's—that's it. And—and—"

"And you are a stranger to these people and they are suspicious of you? I have money to lend."

"But—but—" stammered Mr. Hilton.

The young lady smiled and then he smiled. Then the young lady laughed and he laughed. Then she said:

"I lost my purse once when I was a hundred miles from home, and it seemed for a time that I would have to walk home. This will help you out."

She took a five-dollar bill from her purse, and extended it, but the confused and blushing young man shrank back, and protested:

"I—I can't take it. I didn't intend to ask you for money. I just wanted to tell you that—that—"

"That you were what they call broke," she laughed. "You want to get home, of course. How are you going to do it without money?"

"Will you cash my check for the amount?"

"Most certainly. It's a business transaction. Here is my name."

"Miss Fannie Weston," he read on the card as he prepared to fill in a check. "Why, my college chum was Tommy Weston. You can't be the sister he used to talk so much about? I am Guy Hilton."

"Whom he used to talk so much about that I got tired of hearing your praises? Yes, I am that Fannie, and just now I am a capitalist with money to lend. As you and Tommy were chums, and as I am Tommy's only sister, you had better negotiate a loan before that train comes along."

There was some one looking in the door as that five dollar bill changed hands. It was Constable Stacey. He had followed the trail of the suspicious character. When he saw the money passed and the two laughing and talking he scratched his head and said to himself:

"Mighty suspicious circumstances, and I ought to arrest 'em both and find out their little game, but as it's near supper time I guess I won't put myself out."

There surely was a little game in it, but arresting the pair might not have brought it out. It was six months later, when Tommy Weston had returned from South America, that he backed Guy Hilton into a corner and said:

"Now, then, tell me all about it."

"Why Fannie found me dead broke up the country and lent me five dollars to get home on."

"And on the strength of that —"

"Yes, I have dared ask her to marry me."

"Well, I'll be hanged! Say, Guy, you'll make a peach of a brother-in-law!"

Wise Goose.

The Covent Garden management requires a corps of geese to take part in Humperdink's "Children of Kings," and apparently finds it hard to secure a sufficient number of intelligent birds. A goose recommended in "A Book for a Rainy Day" would prove an acceptable recruit. "I have heard my mother relate," writes J. T. Smith, "that when at Greenwich in 1866 for the benefit of her health an aged ple and cheese cake woman lived there who was accompanied through the town by a goose, who regularly stopped at her customers' doors and commenced a loud cackling. Whenever the words 'Not today' were uttered, off it waddled to the next house, and so on until business was ended."—London Chronicle.

Cities Suffer by Comparison.

With a population of 7,000,000, London had but nineteen cases of murder during the past year, according to the report of Hon. Charles A. de Courcy, chairman of the committee on criminal law, American Prison association. Five of the murderers committed suicide and four were never apprehended. The others were either convicted or executed or committed to the insane asylum. In Chicago during the same period 202 homicides were committed. Only one of the offenders was hanged, fifteen were sent to the penitentiary, and the others were exonerated by the grand jury, acquitted, discharged, or otherwise set free.

Rural France Losing.

At a recent French Congress on Rural Depopulation it was reported that in the department of the Cote d'Or which mainly produces wheat and wine, the problem of depopulation is a most urgent character. In the 50 years ending with 1911 the French department lost at the rate of 840 persons a year, and since the latter date and up to 1912 the decrease had been from 22,000 to 317,000.

The same conditions exist all through France. From 1846 to 1906 the urban population increased from 8,751,000 to 10,000,000 while the rural population decreased from 26,650,000 to 27,715,000.

Happy Microbe.

The microbe is tenacious of life, for Migula found the bacillus leptosporus placed on a sheet of glass lived for five years. Germs of potato disease sealed in a tube were living after a period of eight years. In 1879 Ball, of Prague, after a lapse of eighteen years, infected a mouse fatally with some bacilli. Nestler investigated clod of earth stored in a herbarium for over half a century, and found 89,200 living spores to the gramme. Some earth wrapped in paper since 1824, and protected from atmospheric germs, showed on examination 19,000 bacilli to the gramme. Eighty-seven years is a ripe age even for a microbe.

Continuous Tungsten.

After three years' research work, a continuous tungsten lamp has been produced. The new discovery makes it possible to use a continuous wire in the lamp, so that the risk of breakage is reduced to a minimum and the life of the lamp considerably extended.

Hitherto tungsten has only been producible in short lengths. The new discovery makes it possible to use a continuous wire in the lamp, so that the risk of breakage is reduced to a minimum and the life of the lamp considerably extended.

Bids for the construction of the two 27,000-ton battleships, Oklahoma and Nevada have been opened. They will cost nearly $6,000,000 each.

Us Convince You

BUY YOUR GROCERIES AT FORBES' IN 1912.

Why not make this one of your "resolutions" for the new year? You want to save all you can, of course; that's why we suggest that you come and try trading with us once. There are other reasons too—and they are almost as important as the saving proposition. For instance—we have the newest and freshest stock of groceries in town, no old shelf-worn, dusty, dirty stuff; we buy in the largest quantities and pay spot cash for same. And as to our prices, although we "don't raise much fuss" about it, WE ALWAYS MEET COMPETITION on anything in our line. Now if you don't believe we do this, call us up at any time and see. We could give you many other reasons why we are "just as nice" as the other fellows, but we'd rather show you. So come give us a trial anyway.

NEW POISON

Is Causing Many Live Stock To Die.

During the past six weeks farmers in Hopkinsville and other counties have lost over 200 horses and mules by a disease known in the medical world as "or ptoen poisoning," and the farmers are becoming alarmed at the situation. The disease is said to be caused by faulty corn and the farmers are unable to stop the poisoning. As the corn on the surface appears to be of a high-class variety, but on the inside of the kernel is a little black substance which is said to cause the poisoning. The effect of the poisoning causes the animals to perform queer antics and after three or four hours of intense suffering the horse dies.

City Taxes Advertised.

I am preparing the City Tax list to advertise for sale all unpaid taxes for 1910 and 1911. This is on both white and Colored property. These taxes must be paid during this month or I will advertise same in the Kentucky New Era.
